SEEN, HEARD AND TOLD
BY THE EDITOR

We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard.—Acts 4:20.

I dont know whether it is a beginning of an era, or the start of an old era, but Charles M. Brunson, formerly of the free state, has succeeded Mr. Hurd (Mr. Crump) Horton as manager of the world's biggest cotton company - Anderson-Clayton Cotton Company and has moved that office from upstairs over Cuff's to upstairs over Horn Seed Company. I hope Mr. Crump's interest in politics will not diminish, and that, if he really is retiring, he is retiring with an abuhdant pension.

See where our own County Agent, C. O. Sennett, has received some sort of medal from State College for what they call 'distinguished service.'

'Handsome Harry' Long, now of Forworth, is visiting homefolks this week. He gets the GCW there.

Now with coffee down, folks here are expecting that the boss-coffee-seller, T. Darras, to bring coffee down to a nickle.

Everybody so far have been pretty mum about those distinguished fishermen losing that boat out on the Carroll County Gold Coast.

If Gartin starts running for governor, as he should have done long ago, put the GCW down as a Gartin Man.

Ben Sanders wont have to blacktop very far to include blacktopping not only to John Chambley's place, but also to the place of the king of the Carroll County boyz, Shorty Jones, whose fine establishment is just inside Carroll County. By the way, J. Fred and I called at Shorty's place Friday, but to find him 'out'. However, he dropped into the office Saturday and paid his annual dues.

On television the other night, I saw that biggest gal of Jim Eastland, and I dont blame Brad Dye, Jr. for courting her.

I guess now Billy Gartin Semmes and William Eastland Winter will have some time to devote to their growing law business. Secretary can devote her attention to the law and not to the conflicting politics of her superiors.

Sax Weir reports that he and Hamp are getting a dribble of business from the would-be local politicians.

Lt. Sax Weir Jr. and family who have been in the naval establishment in Corpus Christi, are now located in Ocean Breeze, near Jacksonville, Fla.

I dont really know whether Frank Thomas in Elaine, Arkansas is getting the GCW, as he should be, but Frank Thomas of Star Route 1, is getting it as a new subscriber. He is one of the main highwaymen in this district. Roy Adams should be mighty proud of Frank.

All of us regret that Bob and Juanita Lang's home burned while they were off on vacation.

It looks like another era has closed with Rev. E. R. Henderson and wife taking up pastoral duties in Verona. The Hendersons have been here 4 years, have reared a fine family here and have always been influences for the good. Our best wishes follow them to Verona or wherever the Lord's work calls them. Few of us remember when the Central Baptist Church split off from the 'old' Baptist crowd, and when Rev. J. W. Lee was leader of the Central's flock.

Mrs. A. S. J. Shaw, now the wife of the State Treasurer of Oklahoma keeps up with Grenada doings thru the GCW and, as in this case, never forgets to renew. She is remembered here as the former Mrs. Geo. Grant.

Effie and Durrow are going to have to attend to their fishing laurels closer because their esteemed brother, Bet, has taken up fishing in Grenada Lake.

—Wins Diamond Ring—

Mrs. Ralph Cartledge of Tupelo was the first winner of a diamond ring in a contest of skill and-or luck in Tupelo, Miss. The winner will be remembered by friends as Mary - daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. McCluskey of Grenada. Mrs. Cartledge is manager of the Rex Plaza Hotel and Cottages, Tupelo, Miss.

If this is YOUR farm, you can get, without charge, a nicely mounted picture of the farm, but you must come to the Grenada County Weekly and identify it.

While you are in the GCW office, we hope to interview you and get a story, for subsequent publication, about this property and about your family.

If you need other photographs of the above, either the size shown, or larger, or on postal cards, the GCW can, and will arrange for them. A reasonable charge of course, will be made for these reproductions. Let us show you samples.

Henderson served as pastor of the Central Baptist Church for 33 years and 11 months, coming to Grenada in the summer of 1920. They reared their splendid family here. Rev. Henderson served long and faithfully his charge here, and although he will eventually be replaced, his own place will never be filled.

Grenada will miss these good citizens, and wish for them added blessings in their new home.

PLANNING MILL VICTIM OF DISASTROUS FIRE

Saturday Afternoons Blaze Is One of Grenada Largest

Grenada Planing Mill, one of the interests of the Embry-Phillips combination, located on the east side of the I. C. Railroad, just across from Binswanger Glass Factory, in South Grenada, was totally destroyed by fire of an undetermined origin Saturday afternoon, August 21, 1954.

This company lost a $100,000 blaze at Eupora last December and this unit of the plant is due back into operation shortly.

Paid firefighters and many volunteers were able to prevent the spread of the disastrous flames to nearby factoris and residences.

While not the very biggest fire in Grenada's history it was one of the biggest.

It is understood the plant will be rebuilt.

Open in Grenada on Sept. 1st

During June, July and August, many business places, including the postoffice and the county courthouse, have been closed every Wednesday afternoon, much to the discomfort of people generally.

On Wednesday, Sept. 1st, everything will be open in Grenada for the rest of the season.

EMERGENCY BULLETIN!!!

To Every Citizen of Grenada and Grenada County, Mississippi

The quota for your town and county in the 'Emergency March of Dimes Drive' is lagging behind badly and unless we all help out by giving to this wonderful cause Grenada County will be a county in Mississippi which failed to help the National Foundation for Polio. I realize that many citizens have already contributed and it is appreciated but at the same time there are so many of us that has not, as yet, contributed and let me assure you that this is certainly an urgent emergency request for funds that is needed to finish up the year 1954. Your dimes and dollars will save the life of many victims of polio and assist many more to find life again.

I do not have to go into the urgent need of these contributions since you know how it is used and what it goes for but I would like to tell you tha t'The National Foundation For Infantile Paralysis' is broke and all funds have been exhausted and they are dependent upon everyone of us for our dimes and dollars in order to keep the iron lungs operating; the hospitals open, to finish their great research for a cure and preventive of polio; to give thousands of other services and treatments that they render.

Please give your help because this is a serious situation at this time. Please send your contributions to either of the following This Week:N

Mrs. C. K. Bailey, Jr., Chairman, Jr. Auxiliary, Grenada;

His widow is the former Miss Mary Nason, once sheriff of Grenada Co. Their one daughter also survives.

I Saw A Few Things In California

(Mrs. W. W. W.)

On Wednesday, [illegible] 11, Mrs. H. T. (Gwen) Salter, grandson, Craig, and I left Gr[illegible] No. 3 for a weeks visit to re[illegible] the Los Angeles, Calif. area. [illegible]ned home on the Panama Lin[illegible] New Orleans Saturday night. We made both trips, to and from New Orleans to Los Angeles by Southern Pacific's crack train, 'The Sunset Limited.'

I noticed that the western seaboard publicized a lot over being the Sunset area. They have the Sunset Strip, the Sunset Boulevard and is the SunSet State, being the state where the sun sets over the blue Pacific.

It is said that in Los Angeles alone about 1600 people arrive there each day seeking a home where they can bask in California sunshine by day and sleep under 2 blankets at night. Some stay in this Utopia at the expense of the tax payers, for California has the most magnanimus pension and state relief laws in the country.

The theme of the press agent is, Isn't California Beautiful', and it is beautiful, but you hear this with drum-beat regularity. As one drives along one sees oil derricks as thick as trees in virgin timber, and there you can also see faces as blank as a wall, there you hear an undertone of homesick folks who remember their old homes and would go back if they had anywhere to go, or the nerve to get off relief.

California has a fantastic press agent, with puppets jumping in every direction. California raises fruit, vegetables and cotton with water piped from the river. They also drink this water. California has smog from the oil refineries and the citizens are thankful when they get one inch of their rainfall of 12 inches to clear the smog.

The mountain sides are filled with multicolor homes, and in the exclusive parts of the city the home owners will tell you that its worth paying more, buiding higher and finer and more glamorously, because then, one more or less, selects ones own neighbors, excluding all undesirables. If we lived there we likely would do the same.

Some of the sights I saw in Los Angeles as we, (Steve, Dorothy, Laura and I) drove from Glendale into Hollywood was Sun Set Blvd., where we saw the twinkling multi-colored lights of Los Angeles from the Sun Set Strip. It (the valley) looked like a jewel box filled with sparkling gems. We went into Beverly Hills and crossed through Westwood Village. We saw Los Angeles Haroor, Long Beach Terminal Island where the Navy Yard and prison hospital are located; went through Wilmington and San Pedro to Rodonor Beach, Hermosa, Manhattan and El Segundo Beaches, and to Santa Monica where we passed the Pacific Palisades and enroute home to Glendale we saw Beverly Hills shopping district and Wilshire Milacle Miles Shopping District where the exclusive shops are and where the ultra fashionables buy their clothes.

We saw the Chinese Theatre and where Cinerama was showing at Warner, and crossed Hollywood and Vine for the record. We visited Olvera Street, the oldest and shortest in LA. It resembled a carnival with numerous Mexican booths with all sorts of trinkets for sale.

We visited Steve's sister, Mrs. Lubeson who is a talented artist, formerly one of Walt Disney's staff, who with her attorney husband and 8 year old son, Phillip, live in a beautiful home in the Bel Aire Hills. She, the perfect hostess, served a delectable dessert course. Phillip has a gift recording of 'The Lord's Prayer' from his and their friend, singer and star, Doris Day. Another of their personal friends is Charlott Greenwood, well known comedian.

We were supper guests on Sunday of Whyte's cousin, Henry Orman and wife. Their beautiful home is located on Motor Avenue and is one of the most charming homes I've ever entered. Their garden with its two levels, is approached through a remarkably beautiful sun room. The garden walks led you past tree roses, huge fancy peunias, geraniums, begonias, dahlias and blossoms almost too numerous to name. They have orange and lemon trees, several pine trees and other shade trees, an aviary with more than a hundred parakeets. The garden is carpeted with beautiful evergreen grass. They, like many other Californians, have a complete dining service in the garden, and Henry cooked the delicious all-steak hamburgers on the grill while his very ovely wife prepared the numerous other foods served with the supper. The Ormans have two sons, Richard, who is married to Nancy, and they have a son about 9 months old, and now live at March Field, Calif. where Richard is in the service; and Robert who lives at home who will enter college this fall.

While I was there I motored to Bakersfield, about 120 miles from LA with Henry and Gertrude, to meet Richard and wife and baby. We went to bring her and the baby to LA, while Richard is on two weeks manuevers in Louisian, Barksdale Field I believe.

About a year ago, while two well known former Grenada men, Messrs Willia mand Jones Barksdale who now reside in the delta, were in California, checking up on mechanical cotton picking machine (this when they told me) they were in the area when Bakers Field was leveled by an earth quake, and the Barksdales had to get other air plane routes because of the earth quake damage to the air port at Bakers Field.

It's beautifully rebuilt now and we had a very delightful dinner at the Bakers Field Inn before returning to L. A.

Henry Orman asked me to say hello to some of his friends here. Among them were; Mr. J. H. Horn and Miss Lizzie; Mrs. Carrie Goodman, Mrs. Lizzie Brown and Mrs. Sue Revell; Lettie (the Orman old cook) on Cherry St., Ellett Lawrence in Greenwood. More names that I fail to recall right now.

Dorothy and her husband and baby were busy planning something for me every day. They were perfect hosts and our own little grand daughter, Laura, was the prettiest thing I saw in California.

I saw several other things of interest in Los Angeles namely the San La Brea Pits where asphalt and fossils were unearthed by construction work and the saber tooth tigers and dinosaurs, etc. whose bodies were preserved in the almost pure tar composition of the Pits were on display. I saw huge ships, freighters and cruisers on the Pacific Ocean, and to one schooled in the simple things of life, witnessed a mad house in burlesque in the competitive flaring lights on business houses, stores, hotels, motels, gaudy colored stucco houses and the rush of traffic and never ending restlessness.

Just to show what I mean about this press agent business, I will compare the MUCH, MUCH talked of Sunset Limited, Southern Pacific train, to the well spoken of Panama Limited of the ICRR. The Panama is as far ahead in decorative appointments, finish, and comfort of the Sunset Limited as a mansion is ahead of an elegant apartment. They are both very lovely, however, the Panama Limited on our own ICRR is away out ahead in railroad travel.

If Mississippi with its half and half, one half of its citizens white, one half of its citizens Negro, had as good a press agent as California, Mississippi could not only promise more, but could give more, to those who seek new homes. God forbid that we attract them with free pensions and sleeping under 2 blankets every night.

The more I travel, the more I love Mississippi, but as long as our children are there and our kinfolk the Ormans are there, we reserve the right to visit there again some day. We will take along our Southern drawl and eyes that see a lot more than we would care to print.

P.S.: Mrs. Salter visited her son Bill and family on the Coast, and we met at the station in Los Angeles Thursday night for the return trip. She also saw a lot of interesting things and I believe she likes California better than I, and, I just like Mississippi better.

Some One Needs You

Lesson for August 29, 1954

IS RIGHT belief all that is needed to make a Christian? In several places in the New Testament a plain NO is given to this question. For one thing, there is the example of Jesus. The first biography of him we have is the thumb-nail sketch from Peter's sermon at Caesarea, spoken (of course) years before the gospels were written down: "He went about doing good." Jesus not only was good, he did good. he spent his time helping people. What can we say of a "Christian" who makes no effort to do as Christ did? Then James and John, different types though they were, agree on the same point. James says flatly that faith without works is dead, and a look at the whole paragraph where he says this shows that the "works" he is thinking of are just the giving of things needed for the body to those who are ill-clad and in need of daily food. As for John, he makes the same point: if a man sees his brother in need and closes his heart to him, how can the love of God be in such a man?

Dr. Foreman

Need for Bread

Needs vary. There is no person as that you are a human being. Nowhere in the New Testament is it suggested that anyone needs to be super-generous to a people out of himself. But in which the New Testament it is clearly implied that if there is a need in the world that we can supply we do not have to ask: What, shall I do for him? How can I help? The answer is given in two forms: there are needs of a physical. There are needs of a spiritual kind. Hard-up people everywhere the best of times. There are many people you can see.

With you do not have to travel farther than the nearest church to be reminded of hungry people you will never see but whom you can help through that church. In Korea, for example, missionaries of every church that is at work there have been spending a large part of their time, in these last few years, in famine relief. Through "Church World Service," CROP and other interdenominational agencies you are offered the chance to help widows and orphans who without your help would simply starve. When your church helps to support "agricultural missions" you are helping people in backward countries to farm more intelligently and feed more people on the same amount of land.

Not by Bread Alone . . .

But man does not live by bread alone, though to be sure he does live by bread. Just because he is man and not brute, he has needs which are mental and spiritual. Every minister of a prosperous congregation knows families that never have needed help to pay their bills; they have all the money they need and all that money can buy. But these may be among the most needy families of the congregation. their lives may be empty, or filled with fear and despair. Physically well-fed, spiritually starving people are all around us. In these days in particular there is need for cheer and courage. We are certainly living in the darkest hours of human history, and many believe these are the last hours of the human race. At such a time men's hearts melt within them.

Sharing and Bearing

There are also the needs of those who have missed the mark, who have been (to quote Paul) "overtaken in a fault" and need above all to have their spiritual health restored, they need to "get right" with God and man. Here again is a need which Christians supply not only to those whom they personally know, but—through the missionary work of the church which they support — to others around the globe. Wherever, in mid-Africa or in a lonely western mining - camp, or anywhere else, the message of Christ is brought by those who are supported by churches such as those in your community, there the Christians in the home churches are helping the deepest human needs perhaps better than they could if they were there themselves. Each of us has his own load of responsibility to bear; but also each of us can share some of the burdens of the heavy-laden, near and far.

SOIL CONSERVATION

(By Rex R. Blue, SCS)

Mr. James Cann, with the U. S. Forest Service, has been assigned to Grenada County as Project Forester. He will be available to assist farmers with their forestry improvement practices. Farmers desiring help with their farm woodland may contact Mr. Cann at the local Soil Conservation Work Unit Office in the Agricultural Building.

Farmers who have planned to plant pine seedlings during the winter and early spring planting season are required to make application for seedlings now. ACP assistance for tree planting and timber stand improvement will be available.

Mr. O. W. Scott has a good cotton crop on a 10 acre field where fescue and ladino clover was turned under in the spring. The fescue and ladino was allowed to remain on the field for four years. Many farmers are finding that grass base rotation proves more effective and last longer than where legumes are planted alone. With more acres being diverted from cotton, farmers have an excellent opportunity to improve their soil. Grass base rotations help to increase the moisture holding capacity and fertility of the soil and also make it more workable. Fescue and ladino clover have proven to be good sod builders.

Farmers who plan to carry out such practices as pond construction, terracing, etc., are requested to make application now so that the work may be scheduled.

—LETTER TO EDITOR—

Dear Whyte:

The Grenada County Weekly we received on this past Monday morning, August 16th issue, brings to our family the first direct word we have received about the activities of the good people in and around Grenada. Through the columns of that paper during these weeks. Attached to the paper was a memo from a neighbor [illegible] stating that he is tired of reading that 'crap' and suggests that I should arrange with the publisher to correct the address. You can be sure that the Burts at 8543 Drexel are not in that category - and we definitely want to continue to receive that paper each week. Accordingly, shall greatly appreciate if you will please give the question of the proper address the necessary handling with those of your forces concerned.

You will very probably not have it in mind this way, but I too was for quite some time proud to consider myself as a member of the 'Ferdinand Club.' How I have wished from time to time during recent years that it might be possible to spend an evening with the members of that club - though it always costs me plenty of money to do so. The recent death of Ralph Semmes removed from that list one of its most outstanding members - and one whom the Burts and McLeods always held in the very highest regard. It is our hope the fond memories we hold of Ralph will linger long to lessen the loss we have sustained.

Without the Grenada County Weekly it is extremely difficult for us to keep up to date with regard to a national question that becomes increasingly important - that of segregation. It might be well to state that there is no one with a more sympathetic attitude to the Negro than I have had all through the years - but I am strongly opposed to the opinion recently handed down by the Supreme Court. It is extremely pleasing to observe that the southern states are moving cautiously and I think progressively in the handling of this serious question. You will find some interest in the attached statement on this over-all question by Dr. J. Rice Williams, Houston, Miss.

Frances and Mrs. McLeod join me in sending kindest personal regards - and through you we should like so much to be remembered to Mrs. Whitaker.

Cordially,
Clarence Burt.

Watermelon Hemphill, who was in Saturday to renew for his eldest daughter, Mrs. T. J. Morman, City, reported that he recently returned from a motor trip, with his wife, to see one of his daughters, now near Tulsa in Indian Territory. His neighbors here in Grenada attended to the chickens and kept his lawn mowed while the Hemphills were away. He and Mrs. Hemphill went with their Oklahoma daughter, while his boy, Arthur, came to Oklahoma and brought them back. He reported that he and his wfie had a grand time, but they were glad to be at home again. He tapped his money belt and said the trip cost them nary nickle. As they should be, the kids are mighty good to the Watermelon King and his wife.

We used to head up this column with a little feature titled 'Everyone you meet is not as good as they seem . . but here is the name of one who is". And then we would mention the name of some person we had KNOWN to be just as good as they seemed. Well, lately we have been thinking on the opposite part of that — that is —everyone you meet who impresses you as being mean and ugly is NOT as mean and as ugly as they seem. You will recall little boys — and girls — who acted up sometsing awful when company came to visit, but actually these kids were just showing-off and were certainly not THAT mean at all when they were in their natural surroundings. Well, we thing its the same with grown-ups. You find a fellow on a trip from home and among strangers who cannot check up on him and he will pretend to be as wicked as the Devil himself because I guess he secretely always wanted to be regarded as wild and wooly. But actually when this guy is at home he is as tame as a lamb. Just proves we adults still like to play cops and robbers and knock out the enemy with one shot, but we know when we get down town on Monday morning the litle men before us somehow are harder to hit and harder still to eliminate.

A friend of mine suggested we write something about the friendly manner which Dizzy Dean conducts his Game of the Week on television Saturdays, when the old Diz has so many nice things to say about all the ball players on the team. Well, there isn't mucs needed to be said about praise and compliments except to acknowledge the fact this world and the people who live in it need NOTHING more and get less than LOVE - PRAISE - COMPLIMENTS. These things truly solve more problems, turns more unfavorable relation ships around to pleasant relationships than all the money in the world. Mr. Employer you should try it on the people working fro you and Mrs. Housewife if you are having any trouble with domestic help, you just begin to give a little praise and appreciation and you will find they will do much BETTER, work for less money - if you WANT to pay less - which we hope you don't.

Heard a little story of a lost child in the big corn fields in Iowa. Many people had searched for him for hours without success when a little girl came forward with an idea and a solution. 'Join hands' she said, and several people joined hands and marched forward and the child was found within a few feet where others had been. Isn't that a wonderful lesson for us all — JOIN HANDS! Our Training Union directar replied to my question that his Training Union was doing fine, only the people who didn't come were holding them back. Our preacher said the same thing about the church's progress, and I know personally the same is true with our Sunday School. JOIN HANDS — is a cry going up from everything everywhere these days. Broken ranks defeat many things and it would seem people would WANT to succeed, that they would WANT to help others succeed that they would consider it a duty and a privilege to JOIN HANDS with other to make the march of righteousness stronger and more effective. Not only in the things spiritual but in secular matters the joining of hands would accomplish many worthwhile goals. If housewives would join hands on this coffee price steal they could buy their favorite brand for 50 cents a pound within 30 days. If men wouldn't be too hasty to buy them, we could buy an air-conditioner unit for HALF the present price within no time - they can be made and sold for a $100 with profit, but we paid $468.00 for ours. We could reduce the casualties of or highways more than half if all drivers would begin to drive carefully - extra carefully. The list grows as you think about it and all is needed is that the PEOPLE join hands in the common good of all.

We were warmly encouraged this week by a nice letter from Hugh Stanfill, Manager of the Telephone Co. in Grenada who says so kindly - 'As long as you write the column we'll read it with pleasure.' Thank you friend, there's encouragement in those words. I still say the telephone companies have the most courteous and considerate personnel in the world and the Airlines are second. —Fed.

More POWER for Mississippi's Progress

Next week, Mississippi Power & Light Company will formally dedicate the Delta Steam Electric Station, the company's third and largest generating plant, located near Cleveland, Mississippi.

This dedication culminates more than seven years of planning, engineering and construction.

The new station increases the capacity of Mississippi Power & Light Company's system by 210,000 kilowatts, making the company's total generating capacity over 450,000 kilowatts. This is nearly twice the amount of power needed to fulfill the present requirements of Mississippi Power & Light Company's customers.

Delta Steam Electric Station is another graphic example of how free enterprise—supported by a progressive-minded citizenry—can meet the power requirements of an expanding economy. It is also further proof of Mississippi Power & Light Company's faith in the future growth and development of Mississippi.

ARE YOU SUSCEPTIBLE TO DISEASE?

A remarkable fact about disease is that the susceptibility of humans differs widely. During epidemics one person is stricken, another in similar environment is not. Two equally healthy individuals may be attacked; one will recover, the other succumb. For this there is no satisfactory explanation. One fact of which we can be sure is that regular medical attention is an important factor in preventing illness. Your physician has devoted his life to the prevention and treatment of illness. Consult him regularly. We are devoted to compounding and dispensing medications and are eager to serve you.

"THE REXALL STORES HAVE IT"

It has been often said that a man's home is his castle, but during forest fire seasons for the past 17 years, John W. McCormick has wondered many times if a forest fire outlook tower could be substituted for home. Because that is where a good percentage of his time has been spent. But on August 1, he became the first Mississippi Forestry Commission employee to retire under the new State Retirement System.

Mr. McCormick has long been known by Forestry Commission personnel for his strict devotion to duty and love for the job that he was doing. Now 68 years of age, he began work with the Miss. Forestry Commission in October of 1937. He recalls vividly the early years of fire fighting when poorly equipped crews toiled at any or all hours of the day to suppress woods fires which were a threat to the fosests of Grenada County.

Three years after starting work with the Commission, Mr. McCormick became a crew leader. This promotion brought about added responsibility with no decrease in the amount of work. He held that job until 1950 when he became dispatcher for Grenada County, a job which calls for sending fire fighting crews to different points over the county where they are needed most for the effective suppression of forest fires.

Has there been much improvement in fire fighting equipment since 1937? 'Yes, there has', replied Mr. McCormick. 'All we had then to fight a fire was back pack pumps, rakes and flaps.' He adds, 'I drove the first Jeep the Commission brought to Grenada County. The use of the jeep with a plow made it possible to suppress fires that couldn't have been controlled by hand. Now tractors are still further improvement because a tractor can operate in places where the Jeep cannot go.'

Another step of progress Mr. McCormick praises is the two-way radio system employed by the Forestry Commission in its forest fire control program. 'Before the radio system was installed, Mr. McCormick says, 'there were many times when we would suppress one fire and return to our headquarters only to find that another fire was going only a short distance from the spot we had just left.' 'Now', he says, 'we know of the fire immediately by radio, which saves many miles of travel and enables us to get the fire while it is still small.'

What are his plans now that he has retired from the Mississippi Forestry Commission? 'Well, I have to do something so I plan to make a little crop and live with my wife a while. You know, I've lived with the Forest Service for the past 17 years.' And he isn't kidding either. Area Forester Gerald Stevens says that even while on vacation last year, Mr. McCormick would hear a fire reported via his Jeep radio, then call in and ask if he were needed to help suppress it. 'And I would go right now, and help them fight fire if they need me', says Mr. Mac.

Mr. McCormick doesn't think there are as many woods fires now as there were when he first started work with the Commission. And he adds that unless there are more fires than the crews can handle, practically all of them are held to a minimum size. This statement is verified by the fact that the average size of all fires in Grenada County last year was only 9.2 acres.

Mr. McCormick has served under three State Foresters. They are Fred B. Merrill, the late Albert A. Legett and Jim Craig, the present State Fosrteer. And he states that he hates to retire because 'the Commission has been mighty nice to me. But I feel I have served long enough and need to be at home improving my farm. His farm is 70 acres in size and he has about twenty acres of young pines. When asked whether or not he was particular about keeping fire out of his young timber, his reply was emphatic. 'No sir, I don't want fire to get in that.'

He still adheres to a strong sense of duty and love for his work. His wife says playfully, 'he has been like a sick chicken since he has been off duty.' But after all, 17 years is a long time and severing working relations with a job and a group one likes is not easy.

Gore Springs 4-H Club Member Attends Conservation Camp

I attended Conservation Camp at Choctaw Lake, July 19-23 with 112 members of the 4-H throughout the State and an Agent from each district.

We had several men to bring us messages, including Mr. C. R. Ashford, Soil Conservation; Mr. J. T. Copeland, Agricultural Engineering; Dr. I. E. Miles, Agronomy; Mr. A. G. Bennett, Entomology; Mr. J. S. Therrell, Wildlife; Mr. Ralph Robertson, Forestry; Mr. M. M. Bedenbaugh, Director of Youth Activities; Mr. Mies Chafee, Camp Director; Mrs. Arnold Hunt, Camp Manager; Mr. Thomas Shows, Life Guard and Athletic Director and the camp counselors were Edna Stanley, Chester McLemore and Shirley Temple.

You can see from this that we had quite a bit of studies. Wildlife is very important in everyday life. Every insect, bird and fish has it's place in it's scheme of life. If we want to kill the things in the air and water, we should remember that nature depends upon all it's helpers to survive and this wildlife may be doing as much work as you and I are.

We had various activities including swimming, ping-pong, volley ball, shuffle board and dancing.

The friendliness of everybody made this camp a great success. I want to thank the Home Demonstration Council again for making it possible for me to attend Conservation Camp.

IN NORTH CAROLINA THE ENGINEER OF AN EARLY-DAY WOOD-BURNING LOCOMOTIVE GOT SOME RESINOUS PINE KNOTS AT A TURPENTINE PLANT; TOSSED THEM INTO THE FIREBOX.
KNOTS BURNED FINE BUT BLAZING TURPENTINE DRIPPINGS RAN DOWN THROUGH THE GRATES AND OUT THROUGH THE ASHPAN; SET THE CROSSTIES AFIRE FOR NINE MILES BEFORE HE NOTICED IT.
RESOURCEFUL ENGINEER TURNED THE INJECTOR SO THAT WATER FROM THE TENDER TANK RAN INTO THE ASHPAN AND OVERFLOWED ONTO THE GROUND. THEN—BACKING UP—HE PROCEEDED TO PUT OUT THE NINE-MILE FIRE WITHOUT ANY OUTSIDE HELP.
